

VETERINARY & MEDICAL RELEASE

Emergency Veterinary Care

Your pet's veterinarian must be listed in our questionnaire. In an emergency, Omadog Sit will first attempt to contact you to confirm your desired course of action. We encourage you to authorize your veterinarian in advance to treat your pet in our care. If you cannot be reached promptly, Omadog Sit is authorized to:

1. Transport your pet(s) to their listed veterinarian.
2. Request on-site veterinary treatment.
3. Transport your pet(s) to an emergency clinic if the above options are not feasible.

By agreeing to these terms, you, the Pet Owner, authorize the attending veterinarian to treat any pets listed on the Pet Agreement and accept full responsibility for all associated fees and charges. Omadog Sit is authorized to transport pets to and from veterinary clinics for treatment or to request on-site treatment if necessary. In an emergency where you cannot be reached, Omadog Sit will act on your behalf to authorize any treatment, excluding euthanasia.

You, the Client, accept responsibility for all medical expenses and damages (including injury to Omadog Sit owner, other persons, or other animals) caused by your pet(s), as well as damage to your property. Omadog Sit is released from all liability related to transporting pets to and from any veterinary clinic or kennel, the medical treatment of the pet(s), and any expenses incurred.

Medications

You, the Client, are responsible for providing Omadog Sit with detailed instructions as to your dog's medical condition. This includes medication dosage, frequency, administration methods, and refill instructions. An in-person demonstration during the Meet & Greet is required if necessary. Omadog Sit will attempt to administer medications as prescribed. However, if your pet(s) refuse to cooperate or become violent, Omadog Sit will not be liable for consequences resulting from missed medications or incorrect instructions. We will only honor instructions provided directly by you or as listed in the questionnaire.
